Update on Brockham operations

Angus Energy notes the BBC London news item yesterday evening where claims were made that the Brockham X4Z well drilling was 'unauthorised'. The Company is of the firm opinion that the drilling of the BR-X4Z well, which was approved by the OGA, EA and HSE, did not constitute a breach of the planning consents. Discussions with Surrey County Council are ongoing and the Company will update the market as soon as these discussion are complete.

END.
