("Angus Energy", "Angus" or the "Company")
Shareholder Update Presentation

Angus Energy plc (AIM: ANGS) is pleased to share with investors a further presentation updating shareholders on progress on all of its existing assets and on new projects proposed in the geothermal energy sphere.

The presentation may be found under the Presentations section on the Angus website. The Company will be following this with an investor call on Thursday 4th March at 5 p.m.. Dial-in details to be circulated nearer the event

George Lucan, Angus CEO, comments: "In response to HMG's recent Energy White Paper: Powering our net zero future, we have set forward our own view of the Energy Transition and how Angus plays its part, as a responsible and profitable supplier within the energy infrastructure mix of the UK over the coming decades.

Following the strong indicative support for the funding of the Saltfleetby Gas Development announced earlier this week, we are pleased by the expressions of interest we have already received from investors in that Development for further investment in Angus' pipeline of Energy Transition projects.

We look forward to the future of Angus; the combination of strong pipeline and assets with continued and growing investor support will contribute to the collective push for net zero in a sustainable and profitable way."
